FINALLY HEART TROUBLE.
Restored to Health by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

M. EDWARD HARDY, the jolly manager of Shepard Co.'s great store at Briceville, Ill., writes: "I had never been sick a day in my life until 1890. I got so bad with nervous prostration that I had to give up and come to doctor. I tried our local physicians and one in Joliet, but none gave me any relief and I thought I was going to die. I became despondent and suffered untold agony. I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and it seemed as if I could not exist. At the end of six months I was reduced to a shadow of myself, and at last my heart became affected and I was truly miserable. I took six or eight bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It gave me relief from the start, and at last a cure, the greatest blessing of my life."

FLEET OF WARSHIPS

Largest Ever in an American Port Gathering at Fort Monroe.

GEN'L. MERRITT'S REPORT

As to Terms of Surrender of Manila Anxiously Awaited.

CUBAN COMMISSION

Spain's New Appointments—General Butler Relinquishes His Command—McKinley Not Present at Naval Review in New York—Soldiers Arriving at Camp Mead—London Spectator's Comments on American's New Possessions, New Order Regarding Mail to Spain and Her Colonies.

Washington, Aug. 20.—One of the largest fleets of warships ever assembled in an American port will be brought together in the next few days at Fort Monroe. Already 57 warships are under orders to rendezvous there and the orders still to be issued will raise the total to the neighborhood of 70. Naval officials say it is difficult to realize the extent of such a marine aggregation in one harbor. The orders being issued last Monday, when five ships were ordered to Fort Monroe. On the 18th another ship was added. On the 17th eight more were sent and on the 18th 17 ships were added. Yesterday's orders included 18 more ships. Before the orders being issued there were eight warships at Fort Monroe, so that the total up to date is 67.

The movement of these ships northward is due to the close of hostilities and more particularly to the desire to get the ships away from points of possible fever infection.

The navy department has not yet determined what ships will go to Havana, San Juan and other points of Cuba and Puerto Rico. There is felt to be no hurry about this until the authority of the United States is fully established throughout the islands. In the meantime the matter of policing the shore points is being considered and in due time a number of the light draft auxiliary craft and some of the single torpedoes will be used for this coast patrol. It is found, however, that only four of the old monitors of the civil war are fit for this service in southern waters.

As many naval vessels will be centered about the West Indies from this time forward, the navy department will send the new floating dock recently bought in New York down the coast to Pensacola, Fla., where it will be kept for docking the warships. At that point also there are good naval workshops to be used in conjunction with the floating dock. The dock is now being coppered and will be towed to Pensacola as soon as the September gales are over.

Waiting For Merritt's Report.

There were few developments of importance in the post-war situation yesterday. The authorities are waiting for General Merritt's report on the list of casualties and the state, war and navy departments are interested in knowing the exact terms of how Manila was surrendered; whether the city alone, or if all the Philippines were included. It was stated by officials that nothing additional on this point had been received.

The claims made in Madrid that the protocol, and not the capitulation, controls the status of affairs by state department officials. The Madrid discussion is looked upon as rather academic, as it is taken for granted that claims will be taken on both sides and the Paris tribunal will be the final arbiter of the case.

Neither the state department nor the French embassy has yet received word that Spain has chosen her military commissions for Cuba and Porto Rico, and some doubt is expressed as to the accuracy of the names given in the London press advices. The names given in these reports are those of Spanish generals and admirals now stationed in Cuba and Porto Rico, so that if the names are correct no time will be lost in bringing the commissioners together. The understanding here is that the sessions will begin at Havana and San Juan about the first week in September.

CUBAN COMMISSION

Appointed by Spain to Arrange For the Evacuation of the Island.

Madrid, Aug. 20.—The cabinet council last night decided to appoint General Gonzales Parrado, second in command in Cuba; Rear Admiral Luis Pastor Landero, who succeeded Admiral Navarro, the Spanish commander in Cuban waters, and M. Riquelme de Montoro, minister of finance in the insular cabinet, as the commission of evacuation for Cuba.

The Porto Rican commission has not yet been appointed, the government awaiting an expression of the views of Governor General Macias, but it has been decided that Admiral Valeriano shall be one of the commissioners.

A peace commission has not been nominated, but it is believed the composition of the commission has been decided upon, though the names of its members will not be published yet, as the government is resolved to take advantage of the delay granted by the protocol in order to avoid a cabinet crisis.

CAMP MEAD.

Troops Arriving at the Middletown (Pa.) Rendezvous—Indiana Boys.

Camp Mead, Middletown, Pa., Aug. 20.—Word was received at Camp Mead yesterday that the entire Second corps of volunteers would be ordered to the new camp near Middletown. The land at present taken by the government will have to be largely added to if the troops to come are to be accommodated, as it is expected 30,000 men will be here in the next 10 days.

The Tenth Ohio arrived in camp yesterday afternoon and was followed by the Third battalion of the Third New York from Camp Alger. A detachment of the Twenty-second Kansas and one from the One Hundred and Fifty-first Indiana also arrived yesterday.

Word was received last night by Major General Graham that the first detachment would be in today from Lexington, Ky., and that two regiments would also be forwarded from Camp Alger. Pipes are being laid through the camp to supply the troops with drinking water. The Pennsylvania canal and Susquehanna river are within easy reach of the camp and are being utilized for bathing. The water supply will be ample to accommodate as many men as may be brought to camp.

CAMP ALGER.

Major General Butler Relinquishes the Command of the Second Corps.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Major General Butler, commanding the Second army corps, left Camp Alger yesterday to enter upon his duties as a member of the Cuban military commission. His successor has not been appointed. General Butler will go to Newport News today, and later will go to his home in South Carolina for a brief visit before leaving for Cuba. He issued an order yesterday expressing his appreciation of the high soldierly qualities of his troops, and thanking them for their support in the maintenance of discipline. They had not the opportunity, he said, to engage in active hostilities, but, if they had, they would have acquitted themselves with credit. The troops composing the Second army corps, said General Butler, are as fine a body of volunteers as he ever saw.

The court of inquiry in the case of the Third Virginia regiment has not reached a conclusion. The report of the finding will be sent to General Graham at Middletown, Pa.

It is rumored that at the request of General Fitzhugh Lee, the Third Virginia will be transferred to his camp in Florida.

MCKINLEY NOT PRESENT.

President Could Not Leave Washington on Account of Public Duties.

New York, Aug. 20.—The following from President McKinley yesterday, which explains his absence from the naval review today:

Hon. Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor New York City:

The cordial invitation which you have extended on behalf of the citizens and officials of New York for the celebration on the 30th is deeply appreciated, and I sincerely regret that public duties will preclude an absence from Washington at that time. It would be a great pleasure to unite with the people in giving a home welcome to the officers and men of the American fleet, who return with such signal honor for themselves and their country after a memorable campaign of blockade and battle, but some future day I hope to make a personal visit to the stations of the soldiers, sailors and marines to show, if only in slight degree, my appreciation of their heroic services to the nation.

I cannot be present on Saturday. I am glad to have an opportunity of expressing my hearty sympathy with New York's tribute to the fleet.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

There isn't one man in fifty thousand who is a good nurse. The average man feels as much out of place in a sick-room as a bull must in a china-store. His heart may be ever so full of sympathy, but his feet are heavy and his fingers clumsy.

In most cases when a woman's general health breaks down the original cause is weakness or disease of the distinctly feminine organism. The only permanent cure lies in the correction of all these disorders. Husbands should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine that invariably cures all ailments of this nature without "local treatment" and "examinations." It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals all internal ulceration and stops debilitating drains. It soothes and tones the nerves. Found at all medicine stores. An honest druggist won't urge upon you a substitute.

"I had female trouble for many years," writes Mrs. A. Lingelbach, of Granger, Sweetwater Co., Wyoming, "and tried many physicians until I was completely discouraged. Finally I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for six months, and I soon found that I was completely cured. I had been so bad I could hardly walk across the floor, but I am now well and strong, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

No family should be without Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It used to cost $1.50, now it is free. Paper-covered copy, 25-cent stamps, to cover mailing only; cloth binding 31 stamps. Over 1,200,000 American homes now contain copies of this great work. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BRADSTREET'S VIEW

Of Business Prospects In All Parts of the Country.

APPROACH OF FALL TRADE

Awaited With an Air of Confidence by the Mercantile Community—Reports of Collections Encouraging—Increased Number of Buyers in Many Leading Cities—Encouraging Outlook.

New York, Aug. 20.—Bradstreet today says: Perhaps the most interesting feature of the general business situation at present is the air of confidence with which the mercantile community awaits the approach of the fall trade period. While, of course, based in some degree upon the favorable results already achieved in many lines, it is unquestionably true that the flattering crop outlook at home and the return of peace, with the exceptional benefits of our export trade naturally expected to accrue therefrom, make for much of the feeling thus expressed.

Reflection of the growth of fall trade is found in the steady expansion now going on in bank clearings, the improved demand at higher prices for most metals of iron and steel; the generally favorable railway earnings, which, in default of a large movement of crops to market, point to a large return trade in manufactured goods to the agricultural sections and the reports of continued activity in distributive trade west and south, with signs of moderate increase in interest at leading eastern markets which hitherto have not shared largely in the trade improvement.

Immense Iron Business.

The immense business doing in iron and steel products at advanced prices calls attention to the proportionately less notable expansion of crude iron production. Pig iron statistics, in fact, point to an even smaller output for the current month, some of which curtailment, of course, is based upon midsummer conditions.

The situation in cereals shows but little change. The balance established between phenomenally reduced visible supplies, active milling demand at home and fair export inquiry on the one hand and the very promising crop outlook on the other hand, tends to steadiness in prices, and other cereals sympathize with wheat.

Large supplies of raw cotton at home and abroad and the prediction of a yield this year nearly equal, if not exceeding, that grown a year ago, while naturally stimulating to business at the south, has a depressing effect upon the price of the raw staple and quotations are a fraction lower for the week and 2 cents a pound lower than a year ago at this time.

The reports as to collections are very encouraging. From winter wheat sections especially reports are very good. Some slackness is noted in payments at the northwest, but this is expected to disappear when the spring wheat crop moves.

Increased Number of Buyers.

Buyers are appearing in increased numbers at leading western markets. Chicago reports increased activity in distributive trade on country demand, with dry goods shipments especially large. Sales of iron and steel are restricted by inability to deliver. Southern and western buyers are arriving at St. Louis and dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps are all active. Advances in structural iron are a feature and tin plate and sheet mills are behind on orders.

At Memphis the outlook is for the heaviest business in the history of the city, but damage by cotton worms in Texas affects trades at Galveston. In the south Atlantic cities reports are of a perceptible improvement in trade.

On the Pacific coast, while business is quiet in California, large crops in Oregon and Washington are expected to make fall trade lively. Oregon fruit men are doing a good business and are shipping to California points.

At the east, more is doing at Baltimore. Business is active at Pittsburgh, iron and steel being especially so. At Boston and New York a moderate improvement is noted.

The depressed condition of the raw staple tends to discourage future business in cotton goods, but print cloths are firm and there is less talk of curtailing production at Fall River.

In wool and woolen goods business is only moderate and manufacturers buy for present requirements. Orders for men's wear goods for the spring trade are coming in better.

LONDON SPECTATOR.

Thinks America Will Retain Possession of the Territory She Has Captured.

London, Aug. 20.—The Spectator in its issue this week prophesied that America will retain all the Spanish possessions she has captured and thinks that "pressure from the Cuban loyalists will force the commission to stipulate that Cuba shall be governed by the United States for 20 years."

The Spectator says: "America will find herself at the end of the year in the possession of the beginning of an overseas tropical empire. Long may she rule it in the interests of humanity and justice. While it is so ruled Englishmen will never envy her possessions nor their expansion into a domain as great as our own."

Claim For $5,000 Damages.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Sero L. Thomas, whose home near the Presidio was so badly wrecked by a mob of soldiers last Monday, has filed a claim for $5,000 with Brigadier General Miller, which he claims is due compensation for the damage done to his property and for the injuries inflicted on his wife and children by the infuriated soldiers, who were trying to gain possession of his son to lynch him for striking a soldier in a barroom brawl. Brigadier General Miller will consider the claim.

M'KINLEY NOT PRESENT.

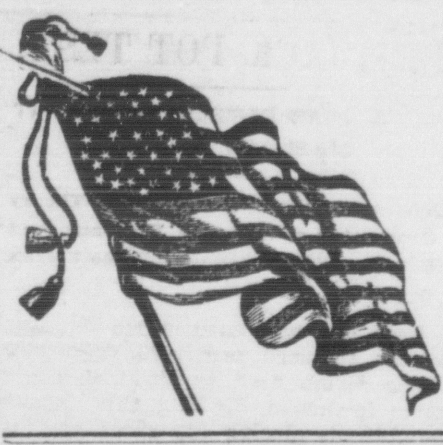

President Could Not Leave Washington on Account of Public Duties.

New York, Aug. 20.—The following from President McKinley was received by Mayor Van Wyck yesterday, which explains his absence from the naval review today:

Hon. Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor New York City: The cordial invitation which you have extended on behalf of the citizens and officials of New York for the celebration on the 24th is deeply appreciated, and I sincerely regret that public duties will preclude an absence from Washington at that time. It would be a great pleasure to unite with the people in giving a home welcome to the officers and men of the American fleet, who return with such signal honor for themselves and their country after a memorable campaign of blockade and battle, but some future day I hope to make a personal visit to the stations of the soldiers, sailors and marines to show, if only in slight degree, my appreciation of their heroic services to the nation.

I cannot be present on Saturday. I am glad to have an opportunity of expressing my hearty sympathy with New York's tribute to the fleet.

LONDON SPECTATOR.

Thinks America Will Retain Possession of the Territory She Has Captured.

London, Aug. 20.—The Spectator in its issue this week prophesied that America will retain all the Spanish possessions she has captured and thinks that "pressure from the Cuban loyalists will force the commission to stipulate that Cuba shall be governed by the United States for 20 years."

The Spectator says: "America will find herself at the end of the year in the possession of the beginning of an overseas tropical empire. Long may she rule in the interests of humanity and justice. While it is so ruled Englishmen will never envy her possessions nor their expansion into a domain as great as our own."

Claim For $5,000 Damages.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Sero L. Thomas, whose home near the Presidio was so badly wrecked by a mob of soldiers last Monday, has filed a claim for $5,000 with Brigadier General Miller, which he claims is due compensation for the damage done to his property and for the injuries inflicted on his wife and children by the infuriated soldiers, who were trying to gain possession of his son to lynch him for striking a soldier in a barroom brawl. Brigadier General Miller will consider the complaint.

STONY APPEARANCE

Remarkable Preservation of a Body Buried Thirty-Three Years.

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 20.—T. J. Bush had the remains of his wife exhumed from the family burying ground and reinterred at Winchester cemetery. Mrs. Bush died 33 years ago, and was buried in a metallic casket with glass top. When taken up the casket was partially filled with water, and to lift it required the efforts of a dozen strong men. The corpse was in a remarkable state of preservation. The face had a rough, stony appearance. A luxuriant growth of black hair was nearly reached back from the forehead, and in one of the hands folded across the breast was a well preserved rose. The black funeral robes with white at the wrists and throat looked as new and fresh as ever. Hundreds have viewed the remains, and many express the opinion that the body is petrified.

BRADSTREETS' VIEW

Of Business Prospects in All Parts of the Country.

APPROACH OF FALL TRADE

Awaited With an Air of Confidence by the Mercantile Community—Reports of Collections Encouraging—Increased Number of Buyers in Many Leading Cities—Encouraging Outlook.

New York, Aug. 20.—Bradstreets today says: Perhaps the most interesting feature of the general business situation at present is the air of confidence with which the mercantile community awaits the approach of the fall trade period. While, of course, based in some degree upon the favorable results already achieved in many lines, it is unquestionably true that the flattering outlook at home and the return of peace, with the exceptional benefits of our export trade naturally expected to accrue therefrom, make for much of the feeling thus expressed.

Reflection of the growth of fall trade is found in the steady expansion now going on in bank clearings, the improved demand at higher prices for most makes of iron and steel; the generally favorable railway earnings, which, in default of a large movement of crops to market, point to a large return trade in manufactured goods to the agricultural sections and the reports of continued activity in distributive trade west and south, with signs of moderate increase in interest at leading eastern markets which hitherto have not shared largely in the trade improvement.

Immense Iron Business. The immense business doing in iron and steel products at advanced prices calls attention to the proportionately less notable expansion of crude iron production. Pig iron statistics, in fact, point to an even smaller output for the current month, some of which curtailment, of course, is based upon midsummer conditions.

The situation in cereals shows but little change. The balance established between phenomenally reduced visible supplies, active milling demand at home and fair export inquiry on the one hand and the very promising crop outlook on the other hand, tends to steadiness in prices, and other cereals sympathize with wheat.

Large supplies of raw cotton at home and abroad and the prediction of a yield this year nearly equal, if not exceeding, that grown a year ago, while naturally stimulating to business at the south, has a depressing effect upon the price of the raw staple and quotations are a fraction lower for the week and 2 cents a pound lower than a year ago at this time.

The reports as to collections are very encouraging. From winter wheat sections especially reports are very good. Some slowest is noted in payments at the northwest, but this is expected to disappear when the spring wheat crop moves.

Increased Number of Buyers. Buyers are appearing in increasing numbers at leading western markets. Chicago reports increased activity in distributive trade on country demand, with dry goods shipments especially large. Sales of iron and steel are restricted by inability to deliver. Southern and western buyers are arriving at St. Louis and dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps are all active. Advances in structural iron are a feature and tin plate and sheet mills are behind on orders.

At Memphis the outlook is for the heaviest business in the history of the city, but damage by cotton worms in Texas affects trades at Galveston. In the south Atlantic cities reports are of a perceptible improvement in trade. On the Pacific coast, while business is quiet in California, large crops in Oregon and Washington are expected to make fall trade lively. Oregon fruit men are doing a good business and are shipping to California points.

At the east, more is doing at Baltimore. Business is active at Pittsburgh. Iron and steel being especially so. At Boston and New York a moderate improvement is noted.

The depressed condition of the raw staple tends to discourage future business in cotton goods, but print cloths are firm and there is less talk of curtailing production at Fall River.

In wool and woolen goods business is only moderate and manufacturers buy for present requirements. Orders for men's wear goods for the spring trade are coming in better.

ORDER SUSPENDED.

Mail Can Now Be Sent to Spain and Her Colonies.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Another evidence that war is at an end is the fact that Postmaster General Emory Smith has suspended his order, issued at the beginning of the war, that during hostilities all mail communication with Spain and her colonies was to be discontinued. As a courtesy to the Spanish prisoners their mail, after being censored, was permitted to be sent to Spain via France, but this concession was not considered a violation of the order. The action now taken is in conformity with the proclamation of the president announcing the suspension of hostilities.

According to the terms of this last order letters and other mailable matter addressed to persons connected with the United States forces at the Philippine islands, Cuba and Porto Rico shall continue to be subject to United States domestic postage rates. All other mail addressed to these places shall be subject to the postage rates heretofore announced, namely: First-class matter, 5 cents per half ounce; Postal cards, single, 2 cents; double, 4 cents; second and third-class matter, 1 cent for each two ounces; fourth-class matter, 1 cent for each ounce; registration fee, 1 cent.

IN HIS HAT.

Was Found a Note Telling Why He Suicided.

Olympia, Ky., Aug. 20.—John O. Miller, ex-insurance agent of Mount Sterling, who has been living at this place for a short time, committed suicide by jumping into an open cistern. He left a note in his hat, which was found in his yard by some of the family, saying he was a drawback to his family and he thought it best to die. He had been in the cistern about 30 minutes when found. He leaves a wife and four children. Morphine habit supposed to be the cause of suicide.

NICKUM'S LIGHT.

Inventor Says He Will Exhibit It Before His Trial Comes Off.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 20.—The alleged perpetual light of S. B. Nickum is still a topic of interest in this city. Numbers of strangers still visit the city to investigate the invention. The last individual who hoped to get a peep at the wonderful light was a stranger from Yonkers, N. Y., who refused to give his name, but claimed to represent a firm that was interested in the invention. He got no further than the threshold of Nickum's house. The latter showed him a letter from the Perry Belmont syndicate of New York offering him $1,000,000 for the eastern right to sell the invention should it prove a success. Mr. Nickum declares he will exhibit his light before his case is called in court for using the mails for alleged fraudulent purposes.

Farmers Not Selling Their Wheat.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 20.—There has been less grain shipped out of this county this fall than for several seasons, although the wheat crop was above the average. The reason is attributed to farmers holding grain in anticipation of an advanced price over that prevailing now.

Gold from the Orient and from Europe continues to flow into the coffers of Uncle Sam. In one week we have the following: $2,075,000 from London, $1,650,000 from Austria, $280,444 from China. What would G. Cleveland do if he was Chief Executive?

DURING the roar of war this country has won a commercial victory, of which small attention is made in the papers. For seven months ending with July the excess of exports for the United States over the imports amount to $317,000,000. In 1897 the excess was only $54,000,000, and in 1896 only $90,000,000. Thus in the midst of a foreign war victory not less striking than our victories by land and sea. It is but the beginning of a great commercial conquest in which all other nations will be at the feet of America.—Commercial Tribune.

THE HERO OF MANILA.

In several very important respects Dewey resembles Grant. He is original and audacious. Nobody ever heard him grumbling about any inadequacy of means at his command or the character of the task to which he is assigned. He does his work promptly and cheerfully with the forces at his disposal. He does it so thoroughly that it will never have to be done over again by him or anybody else. Dewey will, in history, have the primacy among the fighters of the Spanish war which Grant had among those of the war of secession. The contest for second and third place among the great personalities of the war of 1898 may be keen, but the first place belongs to Dewey—Globe-Democrat.

Reunion of the 145th Indiana.

Quite a number of the 145th Indiana volunteers met at Crothersville Friday, elected officers for the ensuing year and transacted other business. W. D. Clark, of Columbus, was reelected president of the regimental association. D. W. Wilson, of Seymour, secretary, and Lewis King, of Columbus, treasurer. Seymour was selected as the next place of meeting at which time it is expected a larger number of the comrades of 145th will come together. The meeting was much enjoyed by all present.

Their Bonds Good.

Several of the township trustees who under the law, hold over two years longer than the regular term of office, have asked Attorney General Ketcham for his opinion as to whether they need to file new bonds covering the extra period of office. Their bonds in every case read, "For a term of four years from the date specified," and most of the officeholders were concerned as to the requirements in the matter. In the opinion sent out by Attorney General Ketcham it is held that the bonds, though nominally for only four years hold good for the complete term of office.

The Erie Canal.

The Erie Canal has two principal excuses for existence. One is to be the subject of investigation. The other is to provide for the passage of canal boats from Albany to Buffalo. It is just now serving the first—which is possibly its primary—purpose unusually well, but not the other. The canal boats and all the interests that are concerned with them have had a hard summer. The canal is in a pretty bad way. The money that has been spent on it has doubtless improved it in spots, but a continuous trip through is still perilous and liable to ruinous delays.—Harper's Weekly.

State Election Commissioners.

The members of the State Board of Election Commissioners have not yet been certified to the Governor, but it is understood that the Republican State committee will name Jefferson H. Claypool, and the Democrats Alonzo Green Smith, both of Indianapolis.

Charles Leininger is setting the 43 foot telephone poles along the alley west of Chestnut street. The line is to be extended to Columbus and other points north.

One of the most interesting features of the war with Spain is pictorial history which the artists and photographers of Harper's Weekly have given us. Nothing has escaped them, from the marching of the troops down Broadway prior to starting for the front, to pictures of the men under fire.

Dr. F. L. Sweeney of Philadelphia, a nephew of Prof. Brown accompanied by Mr. Upton of Chicago, arrived here this morning from Chicago on a motorcycle, to visit for the day. Their carriage attracted considerable attention. Dr. Sweeney has ordered a new cycle from a Laporte firm and will make the trip to Philadelphia with it.—Franklin Star.

Those who desire to get together a collection of plants for the window-garden for next winter should make their selection now. Here is a list of some of the best ones, according to Harper's Bazar, for winter flowering: Chinese Primrose, Heliotropis, Plumbago, Begonia, Lantana, Abutilon, Fuchsia, Geraniums, and Hermosa Queen's Scarlet, and Agrippina Roses. SOLDIERS' LETTER.

An Account of the March of the Indiana Boys From Camp Alger to Thoroughfare.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—Many changes have occurred here since our last writing. Col. Barnett was superseded in command of this brigade by Brig. Gen. Shoafe, who is a very popular officer. Col. Barnett was thrown from his horse and severely hurt several days ago, but he resumed command of the regiment yesterday.

We left Camp Alger, Aug. 3rd and marched to Burke's Station, Va. That day it was a severe march owing to the terrible heat and our weakened condition. Our next march was to the battle field of Bull Run. We camped there a couple of days to view the sights and rest. While there several deeds of pillage were committed, and which are to be regretted but they were justifiable on account of our meagre supply of rations as our supply train had been delayed. About twelve head of cattle, several hogs and innumerable fowls were taken by the men.

The government will have to pay the citizens for the damage done. The most lamentable incident that has occurred was the opening of Major Duke's grave by a party headed by Captain Duncan of the 22nd Kansas. Happily no Indians were connected with the outrage. Capt. Duncan is now before a courtmartial.

From Bull Run we marched through Manassas to Briston Springs and then to Thoroughfare, where we have been camped for several days. Our last day's march was through a driving rain for fifteen long, weary miles over a very bad road. Our camp is at the foot of the Bull Run mountains. We will probably leave here tomorrow for Middletown, Pa., by railroad. The boys arrived here almost shoeless. A new supply of clothes are being issued today. We have been marching in light order. Our tents and knapsacks were left at Camp Alger.

Sickness among the men is decreasing. We find it impossible to obtain postage stamps as none are brought to camp and none of the men can get to nearby villages for the provost guard.

Drills were resumed yesterday. We have no idea when we will be discharged, but hope to be soon, as we all dread having to do garrison duty, and besides many have been pecuniarily losers by being here, and now the war being over we wish to return to resume our various occupations.

Respectfully,

RALPH ERWIN.

THE JACK POT TEST.

HOW A MEAN GAMBLER SPRUNG IT ON SISTER ABIGAIL.

He Wanted Another Proof of a Theory Concerning a Womanly Weakness and Got It at the Expense of Uncle Uriah's Opponents at Poker.

Bent, but tall, with sparse whiskers seldom trimmed, nearly 70 years old, Uncle Uriah used to sit in the poker game in Omaha, his long, thin fingers tremblingly placing his chips and his old eyes glittering as he timorously skinned his hand. Pathetically like Little Nell's grandfather he looked sometimes, but he was at no desperate shift to obtain a stake, for he was the possessor of a competence, and he brought into the game the saving grace of the parsimony to which he had been habituated in his earlier days in a New Hampshire home. He never bought more than $5 worth of chips at a time. These he would, for the most part ante away waiting for aces or better, and when he finally did get a good hand a bare call represented the climax of his enterprise.

In those days there was always a game on Sunday afternoons, and Uncle Uriah, although a devout Methodist, could be counted upon to arrive directly after service and to sit in until the time for afternoon Sunday school. The boys used to joke him at first and ask him if he had sneaked his stake out of the contribution box, but to this question and to all others of similar levity he opposed a sacred seriousness which showed that his passion for the game was more a weakness than a vice.

Uncle Uriah lived with his two sisters—Abigail, aged 68, and Ann, aged 55. In New Hampshire they had been called "the girls," but in Omaha the irreverent, with rude directness, referred to them as "Uncle Uriah's old maids." It did not take the boys in the game long to discover that Uncle Uriah was in much fear of Abigail in general and in mortal dread that she would discover his besetting weakness. He would always shy at a new player, and he frequently held forth to the boys on the impropriety of talking on the outside about the features of the game.

"I sh'd hate to hev the parson know," he used to say. "I wouldn't keer so much 'bout Ann, 'cause she's easy skinned, but I wouldn't hev Sister Abigail know for the biggest jack pot t'was ever played on this here table!"

There was never any solution to the mystery of how Sister Abigail discovered the obliquity in Uncle Uriah's life. Some officious neighbor may have told her, or in an excess of caution Uncle Uriah himself may have aroused her definite suspicions. At any rate, on a particular Sunday afternoon he arrived at the room at the regular time, but without the key with which he, in common with other participants in the game, had been provided. The negro attendant admitted him, and he was soon engrossed in the play.

There was a good jack pot on the table. Uncle Uriah was in and was dealing. It was his last say, and the two men ahead of him had bet $10 each. He had drawn one card, and the play was up to him. He had not, however, looked at his draw when the key turned in the snap lock of the front door, and Sister Abigail, pale with a righteous and terrible rage, strode into the room and up to the table.

"Gamblin'!" she cried. "And on the Lord's day, with the church bells ringin' outside and decent people flockin' to his worship. I expected to find you here, you hypocrite!" she went on, turning to Uncle Uriah. "You better get on your duds right now and come home."

"I was comin' in a jiffy," the old man said, weak with fear. "I guess I might as well go 'long with you as with anybody else." He rose and steeled himself by holding the chair.

Seth Coe was the coolest hand in the game. Even Sister Abigail had not disconcerted him. He reached over and turned up Uncle Uriah's hand. It was a flush.

"You better straighten this pot out before you go, uncle," said Coe. "You call, of course, I suppose a flush is good?" Coe asked, turning to the other players. They nodded assent. Coe stacked up the chips. "Forty-three dollars here," he said, pushing them toward Uriah.

The old man started instinctively toward the pot and then remembered Sister Abigail. He stopped and waited tremblingly for her decision.

It seemed to the players, who turned from the weak and timid old man to the dominant woman, that at this crucial test something of her moral rigidity relaxed. She did not sweep the chips to the floor. She said nothing about ill gotten gains. With a visible effort she overcame a slight nervous constriction of the throat. She grasped her skirts firmly and swept toward the door.

"Uriah," she said, with great dignity, "I will wait for you in the hall at the foot of the stairs."

After Uncle Uriah had obtained his $48 and departed Seth Coe said in his leisurely way:

"The old man didn't have a flush. I slipped in a card to fill it out for him. I reckoned you fellows wouldn't mind payin' once more for positive proof that, no matter what kind of a woman she is, she's always in with your play when you win the pot."—New York Sun.

Careful.

It is related of a certain clergyman in Edinburgh that he was so careful of his quotations and so fearful of the charge of plagiarism that once, in addressing the Deity, he surprised the congregation by saying, "And thou knowest, dear Lord, that, to quote a writer in a late number of The Quarterly Review," etc.

FOR CLERK.

JAMES W. LEWIS, of Vernon township, is a candidate as a republican for county clerk

on the fusion ticket hereafter to be named.

GOLD from the Orient and from Europe continues to flow into the coffers of Uncle Sam. In one week we have the following: $2,075,000 from London.

$1,650,000 from Austria. $280,444 from China. What would G. Cleveland do if he was Chief Executive?

DURING the roar of war this country has won a commercial victory, of which small attention is made in the papers.

For seven months ending with July the excess of exports for the United States

over the imports amount to $317,000-

000. In 1897 the excess was only $54,-

000,000, and in 1896 only $90,000,000.

Thus in the midst of a foreign war victory not less striking than our victories

by land and sea. It is but the beginning of a great commercial conquest in which all other nations will be at the feet of America.—Commercial

Tribune.

THE HERO OF MANILA.

In several very important respects

Dewey resembles Grant. He is original and audacious. Nobody ever heard him grumbling about any inadequacy of means at his command or the character of the task to which he is assigned. He does his work promptly and cheerfully with the forces at his disposal. He does it so thoroughly that it will never have to be done over again by him or anybody else. Dewey will, in history, have the primacy among the fighters of the Spanish war which Grant had among those of the war of secession.

The contest for second and third place among the great personalities of the war of 1898 may be kept, but the first place belongs to Dewey—Globe-Democrat.

Reunion of the 145th Indiana.

Quite a number of the 145th Indiana volunteers met at Crothersville Friday, electing officers for the ensuing year and transacted other business. W. D. Clark, of Columbus, was reelected president of the regimental association. D. W.

Wilson, of Seymour, secretary, and Lewis King, of Columbus, treasurer.

Seymour was selected as the next place of meeting at which time it is expected a larger number of the comrades of 145th will come together. The meeting was much enjoyed by all present.

Their Bonds Good.

Several of the township trustees who under the law, hold over two years longer than the regular term of office,

have asked Attorney General Ketcham for his opinion as to whether they need to file new bonds covering the extra period of office.

Their bonds in every case read, "For a term of four years from the date specified," and most of the officeholders were concerned as to the requirements in the matter. In the opinion sent out by Attorney General Ketcham it is held that the bonds, though nominally for only four years hold good for the complete term of office.

The Erie Canal.

The Erie Canal has two principal excuses for existence. One is to be the subject of investigation. The other is to provide for the passage of canal boats from Albany to Buffalo. It is just now serving the first—which is possibly its primary—purpose unusually well, but not the other. The canal boats and all the interests that are concerned with them have had a hard summer. The canal is in a pretty bad way. The money that has been spent on it has doubtless improved it in spots, but a continuous trip through is still perilous and liable to ruinous delays.—Harper's

Weekly.

State Election Commissioners.

The members of the State Board of Election Commissioners have not yet been certified to the Governor, but it is understood that the Republican State committee will name Jefferson H. Claypool, and the Democrats Alonzo Green

Smith, both of Indianapolis.

Charles Leininger is setting the 45

foot telephone poles along the alley west of Chestnut street. The line is to be extended to Columbus and other points north.

One of the most interesting features of the war with Spain is pictorial history which the artists and photographers of Harper's Weekly have given us. Nothing has escaped them, from the marching of the troops down Broadway prior to starting for the front, to pictures of the men under fire.

Dr. F. L. Sweeney of Philadelphia, a nephew of Prof. Brown accompanied by Mr. Upton of Chicago, arrived here this morning from Chicago on a motocycle, to visit for the day. Their carriage attracted considerable attention.

Dr. Sweeney has ordered a new cycle from a Laporte firm and will make the trip to Philadelphia with it.—Franklin

Star.

Those who desire to get together a collection of plants for the window-garden for next winter should make their selection now. Here is a list of some of the best ones, according to Harper's Bazar, for winter flowering:

bago, Begonia, Lantana, Abutilon,

Fuchsia, Geraniums, and Hermosa

Queen's Scarlet, and Agrippina Roses.

SOLDIERS' LETTER.

An Account of the March of the Indiana

Boys From Camp Alger to Thoroughfare.

Editors REPUBLICAN.—Many changes have occurred here since our last writing. Col. Barnett was superseded in command of this brigade by Brig. Gen.

Shoafe, who is a very popular officer.

Col. Barnett was thrown from his horse and severely hurt several days ago, but he resumed command of the regiment

yesterday.

We left Camp Alger, Aug. 3rd and marched to Burke's Station, Va. That day it was a severe march owing to the terrible heat and our weakened condition. Our next march was to the battlefield of Bull Run. We camped

there a couple of days to view the sights and rest. While there several deeds of pillage were committed, and which are to be regretted but they were justifiable on account of our meagre supply of rations as our supply train had been delayed. About twelve head of cattle, several hogs and innumerable fowls were taken by the men.

The government will have to pay the citizens for the damage done. The most lamentable incident that has occurred was the opening of Major Duke's grave by a party headed by Captain Duncan of the 22nd

Kansas. Happily no Indians were connected with the outrage. Capt.

Duncan is now before a courtmartial.

From Bull Run we marched through

Manassas to Briston Springs and then to Thoroughfare, where we have been camped for several days. Our last day's march was through a driving rain for fifteen long, weary miles over a very bad road. Our camp is at the foot of the Bull Run mountains. We will probably leave here tomorrow for Middletown, Pa., by railroad. The boys arrived here almost shoeless. A new supply of clothes are being issued today. We have been marching in light order. Our tents and knapsacks were left at Camp

Alger.

Sickness among the men is decreas-ing. We find it impossible to obtain a postage stamp as none are brought to camp and none of the men can get to nearby villages for the provost guard.

Drills were resumed yesterday. We have no idea when we will be discharged, but hope to be soon, as we all dread having to do garrison duty, and besides many have been pecuniarily laid off by being here, and now the war being over we wish to return to resume

our various occupations.

Respectfully,

RALPH ERWIN.

SAGASTA SPEAKS.

SAYS THE SITUATION NOW EXISTING IS MERELY A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

Benj. F. Tracy May be a Member of the Peace Commission—Situation in Porto Rico and Santiago.

Spain's memory is short, and already the sting of the recent reverses for the Spanish arms has become so far dulled that Spain is adopting a lofty tone in discussing the situation. Senor Sagasta is quoted as saying that Spain "has not renounced all belonging to her" in resigning her sovereignty in Cuba and Porto Rico. He also holds that the surrender of Manila after the signing of the peace protocol did not change the situation, and that the United States will only hold Manila under terms of the protocol, and that in any event the capitulation did not include the whole of the Philippines. There are indications that Sagasta wants to put in claims for Public lands building and other property in Cuba and Porto Rico. The people of Havana are not yet permitted to know the terms of the protocol and are talking of the future from the government of Cuba as one of the things to be settled by the peace commissioners.

It is announced at Washington that Spain's objections will have no weight in the make up of the peace Commission, and the statement that Senor Castillo will preside is ridiculed. It is said that if there is any presiding to be done it will be by an American. Former Secretary of the Navy Tracy will probably be the next peace Commissioner to be announced.

The military authorities at Ponce, Porto Rico, suppressed an afternoon newspaper, La Nueva Era for publishing an article headed "Vengeance," which advised Porto Ricans to "despoil Spanish shop-keepers from carrying on their business."

Affairs at Santiago are rapidly getting into better shape. The Military Governor has put an end to the charging of extortionate price for food, but the difficulties over the currency continue. Santiago workmen begin to insist on being paid in American money.

SAGASTA SPEAKS.

SAYS THE SITUATION NOW EXISTING IS MERELY A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

Benj. F. Tracy May be a Member of the Peace Commission—Situation in Porto Rico and Santiago.

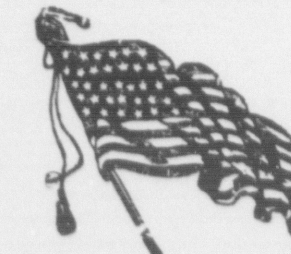

Spain's memory is short, and already the thesting of the recent reverses for the Spanish arms has become so far dulled that Spain is adopting a lofty tone in discussing the situation. Senor Sagasta is quoted as saying that Spain "has not renounced all belonging to her" in resigning her sovereignty in Cuba and Porto Rico. He also holds that the surrender of Manila after the signing of the peace protocol did not change the situation, and that the United States will only hold Manila under terms of the protocol, and that in any event the capitulation did not include the whole of the Philippines. There are indications that Sagasta wants to put in claims for Public lands building and other property in Cuba and Porto Rico. The people of Havana are not yet permitted to know the terms of the protocol and are talking of the future from the government of Cuba as one of the things to be settled by the peace commissioners.

It is announced at Washington that Spain's objections will have no weight in the make up of the peace Commission, and the statement that Senor Castillo will preside is ridiculed. It is said that if there is any presiding to be done it will be by an American. Former Secretary of the Navy Tracy will probably be the next peace Commissioner to be announced.

The military authorities at Ponce, Porto Rico, suppressed an afternoon newspaper, La Nueva Era for publishing an article headed "Vengeance," which advised Porto Ricans to "des" o Spanish shop-keepers from carrying on their business.

Affairs at Santiago are rapidly getting into better shape. The Military Governor has put an end to the charging of extortionate price for food, but the difficulties over the currency continue. Santiago workmen begin to insist on being paid in American money.

A Shattered Nervous System.
FINALLY HEART TROUBLE.
Restored to Health by Dr. Miles' Nervine

MR. EDWARD HARDY, the jolly manager of Sheppard Co.'s great store at Braceville, Ill., writes: "I had never been sick a day in my life until 1890. I got so bad with nervous prostration that I had to give up and commence to doctor. I tried our local physicians and one in Joliet, but none gave me any relief and I thought I was going to die. I became despondent and suffered untold agony. I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and it seemed as if I could not exist. At the end of six months I was reduced to but a shadow of myself, and at last my heart became affected and I was truly miserable. I took six or eight bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It gave me relief from the start, and at last a cure, the greatest blessing of my life."

FLEET OF WARSHIPS

Largest Ever In an American Port Gathering at Fort Monroe.

GEN'L. MERRITT'S REPORT

As to Terms of Surrender of Manila Anxiously Awaited.

CUBAN COMMISSION

Spain's New Appointments—General Butler Relinquishes His Command—McKinley Not Present at Naval Review in New York—Soldiers Arriving at Camp Mead—London Spectator's Comments on America's New Possessions. New Order Regarding Mail to Spain and Her Colonies.

Washington, Aug. 20.—One of the largest fleets of warships ever assembled in an American port will be brought together in the next few days at Fort Monroe. Already 57 warships are under orders to rendezvous there and the orders still to be issued will raise the total to the neighborhood of 70. Naval officials say it is difficult to realize the extent of such a marine aggregation in one harbor. The orders began issuing last Monday, when five ships were ordered to Fort Monroe. On the 16th another ship was added. On the 17th eight more were sent and on the 18th 17 ships were added. Yesterday's orders included 18 more ships. Before the orders began issuing there were eight warships at Fort Monroe, so that the total up to date is 57.

The movement of these ships northward is due to the close of hostilities and more particularly to the desire to get the ships away from points of possible fever infection. The navy department has not yet determined what ships will go to Havana, San Juan and other points of Cuba and Puerto Rico. There is felt to be no hurry about this until the authority of the United States is fully established throughout the islands. In the meantime the matter of policing the shore points is being considered and in due time a number of the light draft auxiliary craft and some of the single turret monitors will be used for this coast patrol. It is found, however, that only four of the old monitors of the civil war are fit for this service in southern waters.

As many naval vessels will be centered about the West Indies from this time forward, the navy department will send the new floating dock recently bought in New York down the coast to Pensacola, Fla., where it will be kept for docking the warships. At that point also there are good naval workshops to be used in conjunction with the floating dock. The dock is now being coppered and will be towed to Pensacola as soon as the September gales are over.

Waiting for Merritt's Report. There were few developments of importance in the post-war situation yesterday. The authorities are waiting for General Merritt's report on the list of casualties and the state, war and navy departments are interested in knowing the exact terms of how Manila

Men as Nurses. There isn't one man in fifty thousand who is a good nurse. The average man feels as much out of place in a sick-room as a bull must in a china-store. His heart may be ever so full of sympathy, but his feet are heavy and his fingers clumsy.

In most cases when a woman's general health breaks down the original cause is weakness or disease of the distinctly feminine organism. The only permanent cures lie in the correction of all these disorders. Husband should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine that invariably cures all ailments of this nature without "local treatment" and "examinations." It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals all internal ulceration and stops debilitating drains. It soothes and tones the nerves. Found at all medicine stores. An honest druggist won't urge upon you a substitute.

"I had female trouble for many years," writes Mrs. A. Lingbach, of Granger, Sweetwater Co., Wyoming, "and tried many physicians until I was completely discouraged. Finally I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for six months, and I soon found that I was completely cured. I had been so bad I could hardly walk across the door, but I am now well and strong, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

No family should be without Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It used to cost $1.50, now it is free. Cover-covered copy, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover mailing only; cloth binding 31 stamps. Over 1,200,000 American homes now contain copies of this great work. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

was surrendered; whether the city alone, or if all the Philippines were included. It was stated by officials that nothing additional on this point had been received.

The claims made in Madrid that the protocol, and not the capitulation, controls the status of affairs in the Philippines will not be discussed by state department officials. The Madrid discussion is looked upon as rather academic, as it is taken for granted that claims will be made on both sides and the Paris tribunal will be the final arbiter of the case.

Neither the state department nor the French embassy has yet received word that Spain has chosen her military commissions for Cuba and Porto Rico, and some doubt is expressed as to the accuracy of the names given in the London press advices. The names given in these reports are those of Spanish generals and admirals now stationed in Cuba and Porto Rico, so that if the names are correct no time will be lost in bringing the commissioners together. The understanding here is that the sessions will begin at Havana and San Juan about the first week in September.

CUBAN COMMISSION

Appointed by Spain to Arrange for the Evacuation of the Island. Madrid, Aug. 20.—The cabinet council last night decided to appoint General Gonzales Parrado, second in command in Cuba; Rear Admiral Luis Pastor Landero, who succeeded Admiral Navarro, the Spanish commander in Cuban waters, and M. Riquelme Montoro, minister of finance in the insular cabinet, as the commission of evacuation for Cuba.

The Porto Rican commission has not yet been appointed, the government awaiting an expression of the views of Governor General Macias, but it has been decided that Admiral Vallarino shall be one of the commissioners. The peace commissioners have not been nominated, but it is believed the composition of the commission has been decided upon, though the names of its members will not be published yet, as the government is resolved to take advantage of the delay granted by the protocol in order to avoid a cabinet crisis.

CAMP MEAD.

Troops Arriving at the Middletown (Pa.) Rendezvous—Indiana Boys.

Camp Mead, Middletown, Pa., Aug. 20.—Word was received at Camp Mead yesterday that the entire Second corps of volunteers would be ordered to the new camp near Middletown. The land at present taken by the government will have to be largely added to if the troops to come are to be accommodated, as it is expected 30,000 men will be here in the next 10 days.

The Tenth Ohio arrived in camp yesterday afternoon and was followed by the Third battalion of the Third New York from Camp Alger. A detachment of the Twenty-second Kansas and one from the One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Indiana also arrived yesterday.

Word was received last night by Major General Graham that the first detachment would be in today from Lexington, Ky., and that two regiments would also be forwarded from Camp Alger. Pipes are being laid through the camp to supply the troops with drinking water. The Pennsylvania canal and Susquehanna river are within easy reach of the camp and are being utilized for bathing. The water supply will be ample to accommodate as many men as may be brought to camp.

CAMP ALGER.

Major General Butler Relinquishes the Command of the Second Corps.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Major General Butler, commanding the Second army corps, left Camp Alger yesterday to enter upon his duties as a member of the Cuban military commission. His successor has not been appointed. General Butler will go to Newport News today, and later will go to his home in South Carolina for a brief visit before leaving for Cuba. He issued an order yesterday expressing his appreciation of the high soldierly qualities of his troops, and thanking them for their support in the maintenance of discipline. They had not the opportunity, he said, to engage in active hostilities, but, if they had, they would have acquitted themselves with credit. The troops composing the Second army corps, said General Butler, are as fine a body of volunteers as he ever saw.

The court of inquiry in the case of the Third Virginia regiment has not reached a conclusion. The report of the finding will be sent to General Graham at Middletown, Pa.

It is rumored that at the request of General Fitzhugh Lee, the Third Virginia will be transferred to his camp in Florida.

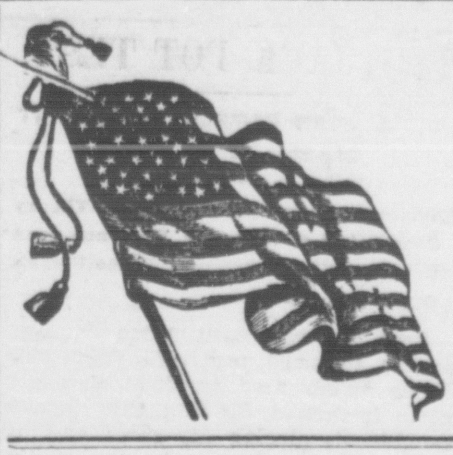

MCKINLEY NOT PRESENT.

President Could Not Leave Washington on Account of Public Duties.

New York, Aug. 20.—The following from President McKinley yesterday, which explains his absence from the naval review today:

Hon. Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor New York City: The cordial invitation which you have extended on behalf of the citizens and officials of New York for the celebration on the 30th is deeply appreciated, and I sincerely regret that public duties will prevent an absence from Washington at that time. It would be a great pleasure to unite with the people in giving a home welcome to the officers and men of the American fleet, who return with such signal honor for themselves and their country after a memorable campaign of blockade and battle, but some future day I hope to make a personal visit to the stations of the soldiers, sailors and marines to show, if only in slight degree, my appreciation of their heroic services to the nation. I cannot be present on Saturday. I am glad to have an opportunity of expressing my hearty sympathy with New York's tribute to the fleet.

LONDON SPECTATOR.

Thinks America Will Retain Possession of the Territory She Has Captured.

London, Aug. 20.—The Spectator in its issue this week prophesied that America will retain all the Spanish possessions she has captured and thinks that "pressure from the Cuban loyalists will force the commission to stipulate that Cuba shall be governed by the United States for 20 years."

The Spectator says: "America will find herself at the end of the year in the possession of the beginning of an overseas tropical empire. Long may she rule it in the interests of humanity and justice. While it is so ruled Englishmen will never envy her possessions nor their expansion into a domain as great as our own."

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Sero L. Thomas, whose home near the Presidio was so badly wrecked by a mob of soldiers last Monday, has filed a claim for $5,000 with Brigadier General Miller, which he claims is due compensation for the damage done to his property and for the injuries inflicted on his wife and children by the infuriated soldiers, who were trying to gain possession of his son to lynch him for striking a soldier in a barroom brawl. Brigadier General Miller will consider the claim.

STONY APPEARANCE

Remarkable Preservation of a Body Buried Thirty-Three Years.

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 20.—T. J. Bush had the remains of his wife exhumed from the family burying ground and reinterred at Winchester cemetery. Mrs. Bush died 33 years ago, and was buried in a metallic casket with glass top. When taken up the casket was partially filled with water, and to lift it required the efforts of a dozen strong men. The corpse was in a remarkable state of preservation. The face had a rough, stony appearance. A luxuriant growth of black hair was neatly combed back from the forehead, and in one of the hands folded across the breast was a well preserved rose. The black funeral robes with white at the wrists and throat looked as new and fresh as ever. Hundreds have viewed the remains, and many express the opinion that the body is petrified.

BROADSTREET'S VIEW

Of Business Prospects in All Parts of the Country.

APPROACH OF FALL TRADE

Awaited With an Air of Confidence by the Mercantile Community—Reports of Collections Encouraging—Increased Number of Buyers in Many Leading Cities—Encouraging Outlook.

New York, Aug. 20.—Broadstreets today says: Perhaps the most interesting feature of the general business situation at present is the air of confidence with which the mercantile community awaits the approach of the fall trade period. While, of course, based in some degree upon the favorable results already achieved in many lines, it is unquestionably true that the flattering crop outlook at home and the return of peace, with the exceptional benefits of our export trade naturally expected to accrue therefrom, make for much of the feeling thus expressed.

Reflection of the growth of fall trade is found in the steady expansion now going on in bank clearings, the improved demand at higher prices for most makes of iron and steel, the generally favorable railway earnings, which, in default of a large movement of crops to market, point to a large return trade in manufactured goods to the agricultural sections and the reports of continued activity in distributive trade west and south, with signs of moderate increase in interest at leading eastern markets which hitherto have not shared largely in the trade improvement.

Immense Iron Business. The immense business doing in iron and steel products at advanced prices calls attention to the proportionately less notable expansion of crude iron production. Pig iron statistics, in fact, point to an even smaller output for the current month, some of which curtailment, of course, is based upon midsummer conditions.

The situation in cereals shows but little change. The balance established between phenomenally reduced visible supplies, active milling demand at home and fair export inquiry on the one hand and the very promising crop outlook on the other hand, tends to steadiness in prices, and other cereals sympathize with wheat.

Large supplies of raw cotton at home and abroad and the prediction of a yield this year nearly equal, if not exceeding, that grown a year ago, while naturally stimulating to business at the south, has a depressing effect upon the price of the raw staple and quotations are a fraction lower for the week and 2 cents a pound lower than a year ago at this time.

The reports as to collections are very encouraging. From winter wheat sections especially reports are very good. Some slowness is noted in payments at the northwest, but this is expected to disappear when the spring wheat crop moves.

Increased Number of Buyers. Buyers are appearing in increasing numbers at leading western markets. Chicago reports increased activity in distributive trade on country demand, with dry goods shipments especially large. Sales of iron and steel are restricted by inability to deliver. Southern and western buyers are arriving at St. Louis and dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps are all active. Advances in structural iron are a feature and tin plate and sheet mills are behind on orders.

At Memphis the outlook is for the heaviest business in the history of the city, but damage by cotton worms in Texas affects trades at Galveston. In the south Atlantic cities reports are of a perceptible improvement in trade.

On the Pacific coast, while business is quiet in California, large crops in Oregon and Washington are expected to make fall trade lively. Oregon fruit men are doing a good business and are shipping to California points.

At the east, more is doing at Baltimore. Business is active at Pittsburgh. Iron and steel being especially so. At Boston and New York a moderate improvement is noted.

The depressed condition of the raw staple tends to discourage future business in cotton goods, but print cloths are firm and there is less talk of curtailing production at Fall River.

In wool and woolen goods business is only moderate and manufacturers buy for present requirements. Orders for men's wear goods for the spring trade are coming in better.

ORDER SUSPENDED.

Mail Can Now Be Sent to Spain and Her Colonies.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Another evidence that war is at an end is the fact that Postmaster General Emory Smith has suspended his order, issued at the beginning of the war, that during hostilities all mail communication with Spain and her colonies was to be discontinued. As a courtesy to the Spanish prisoners their mail, after being censored, was permitted to be sent to Spain via France, but this concession was not considered a violation of the order. The action now taken is in conformity with the proclamation of the president announcing the suspension of hostilities.

According to the terms of this last order letters and other mailable matter addressed to persons connected with the United States forces at the Philippine islands, Cuba and Porto Rico shall continue to be subject to United States domestic postage rates. All other mail addressed to these places shall be subject to the postage rates heretofore announced, namely: First-class matter, 5 cents per half ounce; Postal cards, single, 2 cents; double, 4 cents; second and third-class matter, 1 cent for each two ounces; fourth-class matter, 1 cent for each ounce; registration fee, 8 cents.

He left a note in his hat, which was found in his yard by some of the family, saying he was a drawback to his family and he thought it best to die. He had been in the cistern about 30 minutes when found. He leaves a wife and four children. Morphine habit supposed to be the cause of suicide.

NICKUM'S LIGHT.

Inventor Says He Will Exhibit It Before His Trial Comes On.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 20.—The alleged perpetual light of S. B. Nickum is still a topic of interest in this city. Numbers of strangers still visit the city to investigate the invention. The last individual who hoped to get a peep at the wonderful light was a stranger from Yonkers, N. Y., who refused to give his name, but claimed to represent a firm that was interested in the invention. He got no further than the threshold of Nickum's house. The latter showed him a letter from the Perry Belmont syndicate of New York offering him $1,000,000 for the eastern right to sell the invention should it prove a success. Mr. Nickum declares he will exhibit his light before his case is called in court for using the mails for alleged fraudulent purposes.

Farmers Not Selling Their Wheat.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 20.—There has been less grain shipped out of this county this fall than for several seasons, although the wheat crop was above the average. The reason is attributed to farmers holding grain in anticipation of an advanced price over that prevailing now.

SAGASTA'S VIEWS.

Tells of Some Difficulties to Be Encountered in Peace Negotiations.

Madrid, Aug. 20.—El Liberal publishes remarks made by Senor Sagasta on the diplomatic and political situation, quoting the premier as follows:

"From a legal point of view, the present state of things is neither peace nor war, but merely a suspension of hostilities. An armistice would have allowed us to dispel better the obscurity of the situation; but the United States declined to agree to our making a step further in advance."

"In Cuba, besides evacuation, there are many other problems. Spain may abandon her sovereignty over the greater Antilles, but there will remain the question of edifices and all our properties. There are lawsuits before the tribunals affecting the interests of the Spaniards. When and where will these be decided? In Havana, where a large number of criminals have been condemned by the Spanish tribunals, what is to be done with them? Then there are other questions for which we have to fix a basis of discussion and agreement regarding the Philippines. Besides these and other problems of greater importance there is a preliminary question to be discussed."

"According to international law, a suspension of hostilities has been signed and the surrender of Manila ought to have no legal efficacy. How will that principle be understood by the United States? This causes us much anxiety and we give it great attention, but we are still awaiting the information demanded from General Jaudenes, which has not yet reached us on

Gold from the Orient and from Europe continues to flow into the coffers of Uncle Sam. In one week we have the following: $2,075,000 from London, $1,650,000 from Austria, $280,444 from China. What would G. Cleveland do if he was Chief Executive?

DURING the roar of war this country has won a commercial victory, of which small attention is made in the papers. For seven months ending with July the excess of exports for the United States over the imports amount to $317,000,000. In 1897 the excess was only $54,000,000, and in 1896 only $90,000,000. Thus in the midst of a foreign war victory not less striking than our victories by land and sea. It is but the beginning of a great commercial conquest in which all other nations will be at the feet of America.—Commercial Tribune.

THE HERO OF MANILA.

In several very important respects Dewey resembles Grant. He is original and audacious. Nobody ever heard him grumbling about any inadequacy of means at his command or the character of the task to which he is assigned. He does his work promptly and cheerfully with the forces at his disposal. He does it so thoroughly that it will never have to be done over again by him or anybody else. Dewey will, in history, have the primacy among the fighters of the Spanish war which Grant had among those of the war of secession. The contest for second and third place among the great personalities of the war of 1898 may be keen, but the first place belongs to Dewey—Globe-Democrat.

Reunion of the 145th Indiana.

Quite a number of the 145th Indiana volunteers met at Crothersville Friday, elected officers for the ensuing year and transacted other business. W. D. Clark, of Columbus, was reelected president of the regimental association, D. W. Wilson, of Seymour, secretary, and Lewis King, of Columbus, treasurer. Seymour was selected as the next place of meeting at which time it is expected a larger number of the comrades of 145th will come together. The meeting was much enjoyed by all present.

Their Bonds Good.

Several of the township trustees who under the law, hold over two years longer than the regular term of office, have asked Attorney General Ketcham for his opinion as to whether they need to file new bonds covering the extra period of office. Their bonds in every case read, "For a term of four years from the date specified," and most of the officeholders were concerned as to the requirements in the matter. In the opinion sent out by Attorney General Ketcham it is held that the bonds, though nominally for only four years hold good for the complete term of office.

The Erie Canal.

The Erie Canal has two principal excuses for existence. One is to be the subject of investigation. The other is to provide for the passage of canal boats from Albany to Buffalo. It is just now serving the first—which is possibly its primary—purpose unusually well, but not the other. The canal boats and all the interests that are concerned with them have had a hard summer. The canal is in a pretty bad way. The money that has been spent on it has doubtless improved it in spots, but a continuous trip through is still perilous and liable to ruinous delays.—Harper's Weekly.

State Election Commissioners.

The members of the State Board of Election Commissioners have not yet been certified to the Governor, but it is understood that the Republican State committee will name Jefferson H. Claypool, and the Democrats Alonzo Green Smith, both of Indianapolis.

One of the most interesting features of the war with Spain is pictorial history which the artists and photographers of Harper's Weekly have given us. Nothing has escaped them, from the marching of the troops down Broadway prior to starting for the front, to pictures of the men under fire.

Dr. F. L. Sweeney of Philadelphia, a nephew of Prof. Brown accompanied by Mr. Upton of Chicago, arrived here this morning from Chicago on a motorcycle, to visit for the day. SOLDIERS' LETTER.

An Account of the March of the Indiana Boys From Camp Alger to Thoroughfare.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—Many changes have occurred here since our last writing. Col. Barnett was superseded in command of this brigade by Brig. Gen. Shoaf, who is a very popular officer. Col. Barnett was thrown from his horse and severely hurt several days ago, but he resumed command of the regiment yesterday.

We left Camp Alger, Aug. 3rd and marched to Burke's Station, Va. That day it was a severe march owing to the terrible heat and our weakened condition. Our next march was to the battle field of Bull Run. We camped there a couple of days to view the sights and rest. While there several deeds of pillage were committed, and which are to be regretted but they were justifiable on account of our meagre supply of rations as our supply train had been delayed. About twelve head of cattle, several hogs and innumerable fowls were taken by the men.

The government will have to pay the citizens for the damage done. The most lamentable incident that has occurred was the opening of Major Duke's grave by a party headed by Captain Duncan of the 22nd Kansas. Happily no Indianians were connected with the outrage. Capt. Duncan is now before a courtmartial.

From Bull Run we marched through Manassas to Briston Springs and then to Thoroughfare, where we have been camped for several days. Our last day's march was through a driving rain for fifteen long, weary miles over a very bad road. Our camp is at the foot of the Bull Run mountains. We will probably leave here tomorrow for Middle-town, Pa., by railroad. The boys arrived here almost shoeless. A new supply of clothes are being issued today. We have been marching in light order. Our tents and knapsacks were left at Camp Alger.

Sickness among the men is decreasing. We find it impossible to obtain postage stamps as none are brought to camp and none of the men can get to nearby villages for the provost guard.

Drills were resumed yesterday. We have no idea when we will be discharged, but hope to be soon, as we all dread having to do garrison duty, and besides many have been pecuniary losers by being here, and now the war being over we wish to return to resume our various occupations.

Respectfully,

RALPH ERWIN.

THE JACK POT TEST.

HOW A MEAN GAMBLER SPRUNG IT ON SISTER ABIGAIL.

He Wanted Another Proof of a Theory Concerning a Woman's Weakness and Got It at the Expense of Uncle Uriah's Opponents at Poker.

Bent, but tall, with sparse whiskers seldom trimmed, nearly 70 years old, Uncle Uriah used to sit in the poker game in Omaha, his long, thin fingers tremblingly placing his chips and his old eyes glittering as he timorously skinned his hand. Pathetically like Little Nell's grandfather he looked sometimes, but he was at no desperate shift to obtain a stake, for he was the possessor of a competence, and he brought into the game the saving grace of the parsimony to which he had been habituated in his earlier days in a New Hampshire home. He never brought more than $5 worth of chips at a time. These he would, for the most part, ante away waiting for aces or better, and when he finally did get a good hand a bare call represented the climax of his enterprise.

In those days there was always a game on Sunday afternoons, and Uncle Uriah, although a devout Methodist, could be counted upon to arrive directly after service and to sit in until the time for afternoon Sunday school. The boys used to joke him at first and ask him if he had sneaked his stake out of the contribution box, but to this question and to all others of similar levity he opposed a scornful seriousness which showed that his passion for the game was more a weakness than a vice.

Uncle Uriah lived with his two sisters—Abigail, aged 63, and Ann, aged 53. In New Hampshire they had been called "the girls," but in Omaha the irreverent, with rude directness, referred to them as "Uncle Uriah's old maids." It did not take the boys in the game long to discover that Uncle Uriah was in much fear of Abigail in general and in mortal dread that she would discover his besetting weakness. He would always shy at a new player, and he frequently held forth to the boys on the impropriety of talking on the outside about the features of the game.

"I sh'd hate to hev the parson know," he used to say. "I wouldn't keer so much 'bout Ann, 'cause she's easy skinned, but I wouldn't hev Sister Abigail know for the biggest jack pot 't was ever played on this here table!"

There was never any solution to the mystery of how Sister Abigail discovered the obliquity in Uncle Uriah's life. Some officious neighbor may have told her, or in an excess of caution Uncle Uriah himself may have aroused her definite suspicions. At any rate, on a particular Sunday afternoon he arrived at the room at the regular time, but without the key with which he in common with other participants in the game, had been provided. The negro attendant admitted him, and he was soon engrossed in the play.

There was a good jack pot on the table. Uncle Uriah was in and was dealing. It was his last say, and the two men ahead of him had bet $10 each. He had drawn one card, and the play was up to him. He had not, however, looked at his draw when the key turned in the snap lock of the front door, and Sister Abigail, pale with a righteous and terrible rage, strode into the room and up to the table.

"Gamblin'!" she cried. "And on the Lord's day, with the church bells ringin' outside and decent people flockin' to his worship. I expected to find you here, you hypocrite!" she went on, turning to Uncle Uriah. "You better get up your duds right now and come home."

"I was comin' in a jiffy," the old man said, weak with fear. "I guess I might as well go along with you as with anybody else." He rose and staidied himself by holding the chair.

Seth Coe was the coolest hand in the game. Even Sister Abigail had not disconcerted him. He reached over and turned up Uncle Uriah's hand. It was a flush.

"You better straighten this pot out before you go, uncle," said Coe. "You call, of course, I suppose a flush is good?" Coe asked, turning to the other players. They nodded assent. Coe stacked up the chips. "Forty-three dollars here," he said, pushing them toward Uriah.

The old man started instinctively toward the pot and then remembered Sister Abigail. He stopped and waited tremblingly for her decision.

It seemed to the players, who turned from the weak and timid old man to the dominant woman, that at this crucial test something of her moral rigidity relaxed. She did not sweep the chips to the floor. She said nothing about ill gotten gains. With a visible effort she overcame a slight nervous constriction of the throat. She grasped her skirts firmly and swept toward the door.

"Uriah," she said, with great dignity, "I will wait for you in the hall at the foot of the stairs."

After Uncle Uriah had obtained his $43 and departed Seth Coe said in his leisurely way: "The old man didn't have a flush. I slipped in a card to fill it out for him. I reckoned you fellows wouldn't mind payin' one more for positive proof that, no matter what kind of a woman she is, she's always in with your play when you win the pot."—New York Sun.

Careful.

It is related of a certain clergyman in Edinburgh that he was so careful of his quotations and so fearful of the charge of plagiarism that once, in addressing the Deity, he surprised the congregation by saying, "And thou knowest, dear Lord, that, to quote a writer in a late number of The Quarterly Review," etc.

SAGASTA SPEAKS.

SAYS THE SITUATION NOW EXISTING IS MERELY A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

Benj. F. Tracy May be a Member of the Peace Commission—Situation in Porto Rico and Santiago.

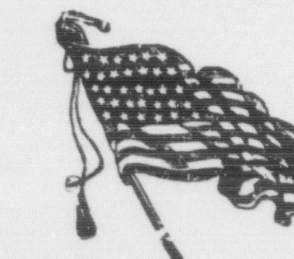

Spain's memory is short, and already the stinging of the recent reverses for the Spanish arms has become so far dulled that Spain is adopting a lofty tone in discussing the situation. Senor Sagasta is quoted as saying that Spain "has not renounced all belonging to her" in resigning her sovereignty in Cuba and Porto Rico. He also holds that the surrender of Manila after the signing of the peace protocol did not change the situation, and that the United States will only hold Manila under terms of the protocol, and that in any event the capitulation did not include the whole of the Philippines. There are indications that Sagasta wants to put in claims for Public lands building and other property in Cuba and Porto Rico. The people of Havana are not yet permitted to know the terms of the protocol and are talking of the future from the government of Cuba as one of the things to be settled by the peace commissioners.

It is announced at Washington that Spain's objections will have no weight in the make up of the peace Commission, and the statement that Senor Castillo will preside is ridiculed. It is said that if there is any presiding to be done it will be by an American. Former Secretary of the Navy Tracy will probably be the next peace Commissioner to be announced.

The military authorities at Ponce, Porto Rico, suppressed an afternoon newspaper, La Nueva Era for publishing an article headed "Vengeance," which advised Porto Ricans to "kill" Spanish shop-keepers from carrying on their business.

Affairs at Santiago are rapidly getting into better shape. The Military Governor has put an end to the charging of extortionate price for food, but the difficulties over the currency continue. Santiago workmen begin to insist on being paid in American money.
